AUDI

Audi keys from approx "M" registration onwards have a built in immobilizer which is situated in the head of the key in the form of a transponder chip, this has to be synchronized with the ECU (engine control unit) Audi's also require a 4 digit security code unique to the vehicle to allow further keys to be programmed to the ECU (Engine control unit) which until 2002 you could obtain from the main dealer, this has now changed and they no longer give out this information to which you are entitled (its your car) this has been done with the sole intent of tying you to the main dealer

We however can draw the code out of your vehicle and program the key(s) on and erase any old lost or stolen keys from the system

Please call for a quote or any if any information is required
