FIAT

Fiats from approx "M" registration onwards have a built in immobilizer which is situated in the head of the key in the form of a transponder chip, this has to be synchronized with the ECU (engine control unit). Traditionally this has not been able to be done roadside and has required the replacement of the ECU and the lockset at great expense at the main dealer.

We can carry out the replacement of lost keys at the roadside for far less than the main dealer and while you wait

Please call for a quote or any if any information is required
